To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty, and Profeſſors of your Mariſchal College and Univerſity of Aberdeen, beg Leave, with all Humility, to approach the Throne, and to aſſure your Majeſty of our affectionate and inviolable Attachment to your Perſon, Family, and Government.

Deeply ſenſible of the Happineſs we enjoy under the beſt of Sovereigns, and of the infinite Importance of your Majeſty's Life and Health, ſo dear to your Illuſtrious Family, ſo dear to all your People, and to every Friend of Religion, Liberty, Literature, and Mankind, we return our higheſt Acknowledgments of Thankfulneſs and Praiſe to that moſt gracious Providence, who lately interpoſed ſo ſignally in your Preſervation; an Event on which, with more Zeal and Joy than Language can expreſs, we beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty, and all our Fellow Subjects.

May God, whom in ſo exemplary a Manner you love and ſerve, and whoſe Purpoſes of Benignity to the human Race you are ſo anxious to promote, ever defend your Sacred Perſon from Danger, crown you with Health and Happineſs, and Length of Days; diſpenſe His beſt Bleſſings to all the Royal Family; and maintain, to the remoteſt Generations, the Sovereignty of the Britiſh Empire in your Illuſtrious Houſe.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Principal, Profeſſors and Maſters of the Univerſity and King's College of Aberdeen.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Principal, Profeſſors and Maſters of the Univerſity and King's College of Aberdeen, deeply ſenſible how inſeparably the Liberty of theſe Kingdoms is connected with the Rights of your Royal Houſe, and how fully the Enjoyment of that Liberty is ſecured by your moſt gracious Adminiſtration, beg Leave to declare the Horror with which we have learned that a Life, which Wickedneſs could ſcarcely have thought of aſſailing, ſhould for a Moment have been expoſed to Danger from the Inſtigations of Inſanity.

Permit us to expreſs our Joy for your Majeſty's Deliverance, and, with our Thankſgiving to that Divine Providence which has preſerved your precious Life, to join our fervent Prayer, that its moſt watchful Care may ever be employed about your Royal Perſon, and its moſt munificent Kindneſs may ever be exerciſed in adding Proſperity to your Reign, and heaping Bleſſings on your Royal Conſort, and on that Royal Progeny, whom we regard as, under Heaven,

Senſible of the Intereſt which all your Majeſty's Subjects have in your invaluable Life, and of the Security and Proſperity which the Church of Scotland enjoys under your auſpicious Reign, we offer our Thankſgivings to Almighty God for His gracious Interpoſition, and our fervent Prayers, that He may continue to keep your Majeſty under His holy Protection, and that He may long preſerve you to guard the Liberties, to poſſeſs the Affection, and to receive the Bleſſings of a grateful and happy People.

Royal Sire, it is our fervent Prayer, that the Britiſh Nation may, by their dutiful Conduct, deſerve the Happineſs to be expected from a long Continuance of your Majeſty's Reign, and that the Bleſſings now enjoyed under your Royal Auſpices may be tranſmitted by your Deſcendants to the lateſt Poſterity.

James Langton, Sheriff.

Monaghan, September 19, 1786.

AT a General Meeting of the Inhabitants of the County of Monaghan, convened at the Requiſition of the Grand Jury, the High Sheriff in the Chair, the following Addreſs was unanimouſly agreed to.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Though diſtant from the Seat of your Majeſty's auſpicious Government, we cannot help feeling, in common with the reſt of our Fellow Subjects, the numerous Bleſſings of it, and rejoicing with them in every Circumſtance which contributes to its Security and Continuation; and we are moſt ſincerely happy in the Conviction, that no Subject in your Majeſty's Realms, unleſs labouring under ſome ſevere Malady, to the total Deprivation of their Reaſon, would make ſo atrocious an Attempt on a Perſon ſo Sacred, on a Life ſo dear.

Accept our earneſt Wiſhes that your Reign may be long and happy; that your Royal Conſort may long continue an Honour and an Example to her Sex; and that your Illuſtrious Offſpring, inheriting the Virtues of their Anceſtors, may, to the lateſt Poſterity, reign in the Hearts of a free and loyal People.

Inſtant of Danger protected your Sacred Life from the Hand of Violence, to unite with our Fellow Citizens in expreſſing our Joy at a Deliverance of ſuch high Importance to the general Happineſs.

Senſible, moſt gracious Sovereign, of the many Bleſſings we have experienced under a Government, whoſe ſole Object it has ever been to advance the Welfare of your ſeveral Kingdoms, we conſider the Preſervation of your Days as the ſureſt Pledge of the Publick Proſperity; and ſhall never ceaſe to offer up our Supplications to the Supreme Beſtower of every Good, that His Heavenly Protection may ſtill dwell around you, and your Royal Houſe, and, during a Length of Years to come, grant you to the Prayers of a loyal and grateful People.
